PRETTY WEDDING LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A small but pretty wedding was that of Miss Elizabeth Fayard, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Fayard of this city and Harold J. Pavolina son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pavolino of DeLisle which was solemnized at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Monsignor A. J. Gmelch, officiating.

For the entrance of the bride party, the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Marie Weber, organist and Miss Louise Armstrong violinist. During the ceremony "O Promise Me" was played. The altar was decorated with white dahlias and fern.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a new fall model pale blue suit with a hat made of pink feathers. She carried a white prayer book covered with a white orchid from which fell streamers of knotted white satin ribbon holding staphylean blossoms. Her only ornament was a wrist watch a gift of the bridegroom. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. James Collier, Jr., who served as matron of honor. Mrs. Collier wore Aqua Marine and carried pink roses. Mr. Pavolino had as his best man Mr. Milton Moran of DeLisle.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Fayard was receiving in a Navy blue two-piece suit and wore a shoulder corsage of pink carnations. Receiving with her was Mrs. Pavolino, mother of the bridegroom who wore a fall suit and also had pink carnations as her corsage.

In the dining room the lace covered table held the four tiered wedding cake and crystal double holders holding white candles which the bride and bridegroom lit before they cut the cake. Green fern and flowers completed the table decorations.

The couple left for a trip through Alabama and Florida and upon their return they will be at home at De Lisle.

The bride is a graduate of Bay High and was a member of the office force of W. A. McDonald and Sons and was tendered a farewell party by the force and the McDonalds presented her with a handsome gift and she was also remembered with a present from the office force.

CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Under the shadow of moss covered oaks on the banks of the peaceful and historic Bayou Cadet, sits Camp Borgade and here Mr. and Mrs. John B. Borgade, treading the sunset slopes of life, celebrated their Golden Wedding day on Monday.

Both natives of Lakeshore, they have lived there fifty years and reared ten splendid children—four daughters and six sons all of whom were with them on their anniversary. Mrs. Borgade is the former Miss Mary Yarborough, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Yarborough.

The day began with a solemn high mass at Lakeshore Catholic church the Reverend Father Victor Boisvert celebrating the Mass, and the couple renewed their marriage vows.

Mr. and Mrs. Borgade entertained from ten a. m. at an old table reception to relatives and about 200 guests calling during the day. Loving hands of their children and friends had converted the rooms into a beauty spot with great masses of golden rod, colored paper and sprays of golden rod, the couple stood to receive their congratulations. Mrs. Borgade wore a dark blue crepe dress and a gold pin set in pearls which was a special gift to her. Mr. Borgade's special gift was a gold pen and pencil set. Their children presented them with a box which was so trimmed as to represent a gold chest and in this were fifty silver dollars wrapped in gold paper to represent gold dollars. The oax was made by Mrs. Lambert Borgade and was presented by Mrs. Belle Peterson, the eldest daughter.

Above the table which held the gold fed wedding cake, topped by a bride and groom, was a bell hung from the ceiling and from this were long streamers of gold colored ribbon by which the bell was rung. The children present with their husbands and wives and the ten grand children were Mrs. Belle Peterson, Ray Wilfred and Lional Borgade of Lakeshore; Mrs. Gladys Baxter, Macon, Georgia; Mrs. Bertha O'Brien, Mrs. Mildred Rios, Lambert Borgade, John Borgade, of New Orleans; Willie Borgade, Bay St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Borgade are quite youthful in their attitude and expect to be there for many more celebrations and here best wishes are extended that they may be.

Alden Mauffray underwent an operation on his knee on Monday at the Toure Infirmary. It is reported that the operation was successful and that Mr. Mauffray will be able to be brought to his home here within a few days. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

"Hay Fever" in Final Stages of Rehearsal

The Little Theater's October production, "Hay Fever" is near to becoming a finished production! The cast and director are putting the final touches on lines and action, and the setting is undergoing a careful scrutiny so that every detail may be as nearly perfect as possible. Everyone connected with "Hay Fever" realizes that in putting on a play by Noel Coward the Little Theater is attempting its most ambitious work since its organization, and every hope is centered on causing the audience to exclaim each night, "This was the best play of all!"

For the benefit of those who may have failed to read previous announcements, the cast for "Hay Fever" is composed of the following Little Theater members, directed by Mrs. Margaret Dodge:

Bea Smith, who plays the role of a recently-retired British actress. Alvin Weintraub, her husband, who plays romantic best-sellers. Virginia Seal, and Carl Smith, her problem-children.

David McDonald, her newest and youngest admirer. Lucille McDonald, her husband's newest admirer.

Dennie Tonkel, a young diplomat, bewildered by the antics of the family.

Ruth Ferrell, a sophisticated woman-of-the-world.

Adaline Knocklock, a housekeeper who tries to keep the family straight.

Since no play had been scheduled for October, and since the Carroll Avenue playhouse must have gas heaters for the winter, there will be a change of fifty cents admission for members and one dollar for non-members who attend. This is the first Little Theater play to be open to the public. The curtain will rise at eight o'clock each night, Monday, October 21st, through Friday, October 25th. Since only a hundred seats may be sold for each performance, tickets should be bought in advance. If possible, at deMontluzin Drug Store.

CELEBRATE FOURTEENTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Throughout the reception rooms of the home were banked American Beauty roses and white carnations and in the dining room were tall containers holding white and bronze chrysanthemums and talisman roses.

The table which held the three tiered wedding cake was covered with an exquisite Madeira cloth and the table held crystal appointments and silver candelabra with lighted candles. Around the base of the cake was arranged white carnations and fern. A very unique arrangement was on the coffee table where an oval bowl held white carnations; extending from the bowl were wire spirals and to the end of each were attached cigarettes.

Members of both families present were Mrs. Clemence Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Dick, and daughters Misses Rosemary, Virgil and Noelle Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fusch, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Janin, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. ## STANISLAUS HAS GALA HOMECOMING

On Sunday 13, Stanislaus witnessed one of the greatest demonstrations of school spirit as over two thousand people thronged the campus for Homecoming. Cars poured in the driveway continuously during the morning and most of the afternoon. Some of the autos were gaily decorated with the school colors of black and red.

Grads from the early '90's mingled with the youngsters of '46. Old acquaintances were renewed and many a jolly memory of old was retold. All in all, it was a return to the spirit of younger days.

Registration took place in the school library while Brother Peter received all in the school office.

In the afternoon the program was highlighted by a sensational football game between the Stanislaus eleven and McGill High School of Mobile, Alabama.

The new stands on the east side were full to capacity as well as the bleachers on the west side. It has been estimated that a crowd of more than three hundred attended the game.

The Rocks secured an easy victory without having to extend themselves. The line played an excellent game holding the Yellow Jackets to only two first downs.

The Black and Red scored in the second and fourth quarters with Teddy Millette tallying both times. The entire team showed plenty of fight throughout the encounter which ended with the Rocks on the winning list by a score of 12-0.

Topping off the events of the day was a Homecoming Dance sponsored by the Junior Class. The music was furnished by the Stanislaus Orchestra headed by Brother Romuald. The gym was decorated in the school colors with subdued lighting providing the atmosphere.

It was a gala occasion long to be remembered by all who had the privilege of attending.

Better be among "those present" than among the "wish I had's." There will be fun for all. And boys! Plenty of them! and girls, countless numbers. And just as pretty and entertaining as you can wish for. So let's get our hats and umbrellas and go to the dance.

P. T. A. Launches Membership Campaign

The Central School P. T. A. has launched its 1946-47 membership campaign with Mrs. F. E. Witter as chairman. The campaign will close November 1 which gives each mother and father ample time to join the organization which stands for YOUTH and its future.

If every mother who has children and whose children are in school would attend the monthly meetings of the P. T. A. they would come away with a keen realization of the tremendous job of being a parent and if every father of school age children would attend even the Fathers Night programs they too would feel the responsibility of what their co-operation to the organization means to their children.

Just suppose that you were a youngster in, let us say, the third grade and when the roll was called and only three or four parents stood up for that grade and yours was not one of them, how would you feel? Most likely you would say my mother and father don't love me or they would come and vote for my room. Can you conscientiously accept a social engagement on the afternoon that the P. T. A. meets and then say, "it was just impossible for me to be there?" Remember you are only asked to give one afternoon a month to this and it does mean so much to your child and it means so much to the child of the future.

This campaign open now is for membership of every parent of every child enrolled in the public schools of the city of Bay St. Louis and the membership is only $5.00. Membership is also open to any person or persons who really sufficiently interested in the youth of the city to invest 50c in their future.

Read this carefully. Join the P. T. A. Attend the monthly meetings and your reward will be great. The P. T. A. pays dividends through your child.

Hancock County will receive notices within the next few days about annual elections of community and county farmer-committees as announced by County Farm Agent C. C. Stone.

Each of the county's three farming committees will elect committeemen and alternates, as well as a delegate to the county convention where a 3-man county committee will be elected. Announcements of the definite dates, hours, and places for holding the election are now being determined.

Mr. Stone said that approximately 157 farmers are eligible to vote in the election this year. Eligible farmers are those who are participating in the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program or who have a contract with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. This includes owners, operators, tenants, and share croppers on farms where the conservation program is being carried out.

Drive For Orphans Opens Sunday, October 20

The Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Natchez are in receipt of a letter from R. O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez which says in part: "Our orphans again hold out their hands in appeal to you, through your help in the past these little ones have had a home and food and clothing and shelter under the solicitous care of the Sisters and Brothers in our orphanage in Natchez. You I know will continue your kind charity to ward them."

The letter further states that it costs $21,000 to furnish the needs of the orphans with the increased cost of clothing, food and fuel, it stands to reason that this year's cost will far exceed that of last year.

This is the cry of the child to you. Can you turn a deaf ear to it. The drive in Bay St. Louis opens Sunday, October 20 and the committees have been appointed and will call on you. If you should not be at home on Sunday afternoon please leave it with some member of the family or send it directly to Monsignor Gmelch. "All that you hold in your dear cold hand is what you have given away." "Suffer the little children to come unto me for of such is the Kingdom of God."

Scharff's Quality Food Store Protects Meats With New Electronic Ray

In keeping with its policy of offering customers the finest in meats, the Scharff's Quality Food Store has installed a Pasteuray electronic ray unit in its meat cooler. The Pasteuray electronic rays will insure meats which are fresher, more tender, more healthful and full of juices and vitamins. Mr. Scharff, owner of Scharff's Quality Food Store, takes pride in announcing the installation of Pasteuray in his market. For over 16 years Mr. Scharff has served the people of this community with high quality foods and he has adopted new innovations in food merchandising in order to give his customers the best possible foods. According to Mr. Scharff, the new Pasteuray in his cooler will greatly improve all the meat sold in the market. His cooler will be kept fresh at all times because the electronic rays destroy the invisible bacteria germs contained in the air in the cooler.

The Pasteuray unit will insure meat which has better quality, better color and will retain vital nutritive values of vitamins, proteins, and minerals. As Mr. Scharff stated, Pasteuray does for his meat what pasteurization does for milk. The installation of this electronic ray and the benefits of obtaining meat which has been protected by Pasteuray will not mean any increase in the price of meats; the same price policy will be continued by the market.

The public is invited to inspect the Pasteuray equipment which has been installed in the Scharff's Food Market. Mr. Tony Note will be pleased to show customers the new electronic unit in his cooler and explain how the bluish-colored light perfectly protects his meats at all times.

Customers can note the benefits of Pasteuray as soon as they step into the cooler for the air is as sweet and pure as that found high on a mountain. Then, too, the meats are not sticky or slimy, but have just the right degree of moisture to make them cook beautifully. Health authorities and inspectors who know bacteriology favor installations of this scientific method of protecting meat.

DENOUNCES PRESSURE GROUPS

MR. Eric Johnston, former President of the United States Chamber of Commerce and now the so-called "Czar" of the Motion Picture industry, says that powerful pressure groups, in their recent struggle for advantage, "have frequently lost sight of the national welfare."

There is no doubt of the truth of this assertion. Pressure groups, organized for selfish advantages, have made a football of our national economy, like Mr. Johnston asserts, and they have made nincompoops of Congressmen, who have forgotten the general welfare of the American people as a whole in their efforts to buy the votes of the pressure groups.

The undue power of minority pressure groups is evident in the handling of the foreign affairs of the nation. It is more evident in the legislation that is passed to cope with national emergencies. The power of pressure groups alone explains the failure of the government to adequately protect the interest of all the people of this country.

The pressure groups now operating in the United States are organized along racial, religious, sectional and economic lines. The minorities do not have to possess a majority anywhere. It is sufficient that they possess a balance of power to make doubtful the outcome of elections in key political areas.

The pressure groups do not attempt to influence all legislation and all policies. They concentrate on something vitally important to them and they cast aside every other consideration except the goal in mind. They do not hesitate to threaten Congressmen and its officials with political oblivion and they do not shrink from using their influence and power to thwart measures they approve, in the general interest, if such opposition can blackmail wavering representatives of the people.

The pressure groups take advantage of the political opportunity that comes to them through the fact that the two major parties are practically in balance in the nation. This is particularly true of various congressional districts. Consequently, an office-holder depending upon votes for reelection, does not dare offend these militant minority groups because, in their disdain of general principles, they cut down if he goes against their special enterprise.

The remedy for this situation, it seems to us, does not lie in denouncing the pressure groups although the problem will be helped somewhat if journalists and commentators will point out the processes and practices of the minority pressure groups. It will not be solved by denouncing Congressmen, because it is almost inevitable that the legislators and officials will be anxious for their own reelection. The solution to the problem lies in devising measures to clip the wings of intensely organized and highly emotional minority groups which respond to the high-pressure appeal of propaganda put out by self-serving leaders.

We have given some thought to the problem and have about reached the conclusion that the best remedy is to be found in some course which will restore independence of action of Congress and officials. The most likely project to accomplish this purpose is to provide pensions for Congressmen and other elected officials of the Federal Government. It is barely possible that such an assurance of economic well-being will strengthen the backbone of wavering individuals and make them somewhat independent of the political pressure exerted by organized minorities and pressure groups.

At the last Sodality meeting, which was held on Tuesday, October 8th, the Sodality planned a project to sell Christmas cards. The proceeds of the sales will be for the purpose of helping to buy a gift for the Centennial of our Lady of the Gulf Church.

The entire high school attended Holy Mass on Thursday from 3 p. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The Sodality officers and committee members held their first council Vigil Hour, Thursday, October 10th.

Pupils of the Sixth Grade are organizing for a peany party to be held on October 24th on the school grounds from 2:30 to 5 p. m. Save your pennies for that day as it is for a good cause. The proceeds will go to the foreign mission fund. Remember the date October 24th.

The Girl Scouts spent the afternoon of September 26th organizing their troop, under the guidance of Sisters Andrea, Pauline and Claudia Strickland.

The first basketball meeting of the season was on Monday and practice started on Tuesday.

The team is being coached by Sister Andrea and Miss Betty Simpson. The team has the best wishes of the entire student body for a successful year.

The High School students of S. J. A. are breathing a little more freely now after the tension of last week's term tests. All anxiously awaiting their reports. We hope that for the majority the A's will predominate. Don't be too discouraged girls at the results of your first report. You will have five more chances of showing your mettle during the rest of this session.

Saint Stanislaus had their annual Homecoming day Sunday. It ended with a dance in the college gym on Sunday night. Many of the convent girls were there and report having a wonderful time.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh.

Are Returning Veterans "Different"?

During the war you heard a lot about how hard it was going to be for returning veterans to get adjusted to civilian life... how they'd be "different."

Well, plenty of them have returned to our town, and a finer, steadier bunch you couldn't ask for. Most of them are back at the same jobs... going with the same nice home-town girls (getting married, some of them, and setting up families)... renewing the same old friendships.

Even their amusements are the same. Nothing more exciting than fishing Seward's creek or pitching horseshoes... enjoying an outdoor barbecue with friendly wholesome beer and pleasant talk.

If they've changed at all it's in the direction of maturity and tolerance... tolerance for everything except dictators, and those who would destroy our democratic principles of life and let live. And from where I sit, that's another reason to be proud of them.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY - MONDAY "REBECCA"

Laurence Olivier, Joan Fontaine—Brought Back to Thrill You Anew!

Gripping mystery and a haunting quality of suspense are the outstanding qualities of David O. Selznick's production of "Rebecca," winner of the Academy Award and the National Critics' Pool, and now back for a popular return engagement at the Ortte Theatre through United Artists release.

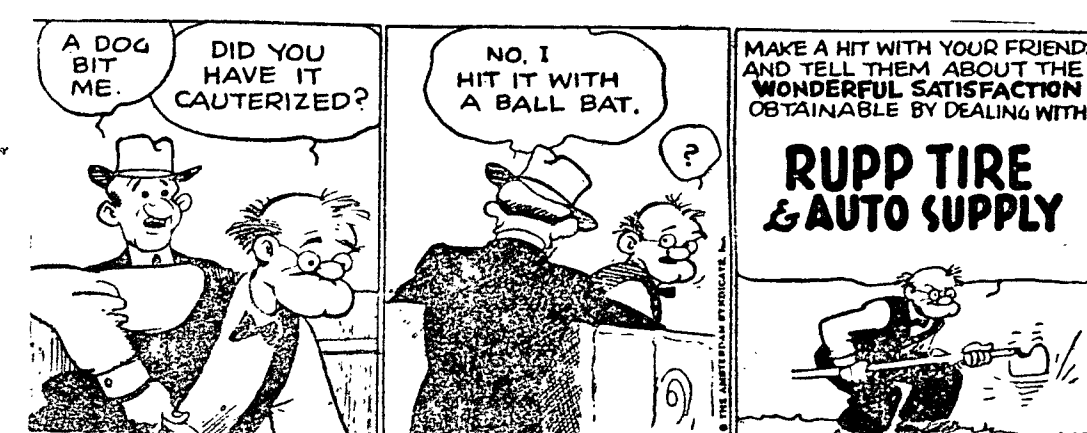

Directed by Alfred Hitchcock, universally recognized as a master of melodramatic thrillers, "Rebecca" was produced with Joan Fontaine and Laurence Olivier in co-starring roles. The stellar-quality supporting cast includes Judith Anderson, George Sanders, Nigel Bruce, C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Denny, Gladys Cooper, Florence Bates and Leo G. Carroll.

"Rebecca" is based on the novel by Daphne du Maurier, one of the biggest best-sellers of the past decade. It tells the absorbing story of a young, reticent girl who becomes the second wife of a handsome young Englishman, owner of a Cornwall estate known as Manderley. When the couple return to this huge, rather forbidding home, which seems to throw out an aura of ominous mystery from the past, the new Mrs. de Winter has a feeling that her life is being strangely dominated by the dead Rebecca, her husband's first wife. Rebecca was admittedly beautiful and fascinating, and her most zealous admirer, Mrs. Danvers, housekeeper at Manderley, is determined to make life miserable for her life in "Rebecca" from the Tudor estate. Mrs. Danvers from the start resents the presence of the second Mrs. de Winter and does by indefatigable checking and re-checking in her power to harass everything in her power to harass checking. A detailed set of pictures was taken of the entire countryside in the Cornwall district to settings assembled for the Selznick production were those of quaint London streets, old taverns, a London coroner's office and the boathouse, facing an isolated bay on the coast of Cornwall. Building of the Manderley estate was one of the most ambitious jobs of the Hollywood production of "Rebecca," and required a small army of workers.

Every detail of English country life of the de Winters down to the rural ale mugs was made authentic by indefatigable checking and re-checking. ## Veterans' News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Does the veteran's right to obtain government guaranty or insurance on loans continue indefinitely?

A. No, but guaranty or insurance may be had when obtaining a loan if within 10 years from the officially declared termination of World War II, so the right will continue for a long time.

Q. What will happen if loan payments are not made?

A. That will depend upon the terms of the loan, the attitude of the lender and the laws of the State where the veteran and security are located. If payments are not made when due the loan is in default and the lender may take such action as is provided in the loan agreement and is permitted by the State Law and by the regulations for guaranty and insurance of loans.

Q. Are there any circumstances under which the guaranty may exceed 50 per cent of the loan?

A. Yes. Where a Federal Agency has made guaranty or insured, or is to make, guarantee or insure a loan for any of the eligible purposes and the veteran needs a second loan to complete the purchase price, the second loan may be fully guaranteed if,

(a) The amount involved is not in excess of the veteran's guaranty.

(b) The loan is not in excess of 20% of the purchase or cost.

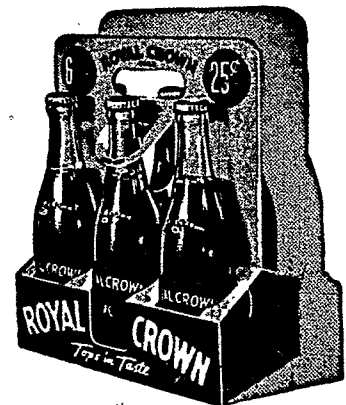

Q. May several veterans use the guaranty to acquire property jointly?

A. Yes, but the total amount guaranteed may not exceed 50% of the loan or the total entitlement for guaranty of the veteran, whichever is lesser. No loan may be guaranteed or insured by a Federal Agency.

Q. Are there any charges for guaranteeing or insuring loans?

A. No, and commission, brokerage or similar charges may not legally be made against the veteran for securing a guaranteed or insured loan. Of course, customary out-of-pocket fees usually borne by borrower, such as appraisal, title examination fees and other costs and expenses incidental thereto may be charged against the veteran by the lender.

How Do Telephone Earnings Affect Your Business?

As telephone service has grown so has your business. Today there are twice as many telephones as there were 20 years ago—five times as many as there were 30 years ago. More telephones have enabled you to reach more customers, and give better service, to the benefit of your own business. Consequently, the improvement and expansion of telephone service are vital to the future growth of your business.

To render good service and expand it, any company must have reasonable earnings. That is basic and fundamental. Telephone earnings today are not only the lowest in history but are dangerously low despite a record volume of business. This is because telephone expenses are increasing faster than revenues. The cost of furnishing service has increased tremendously, while telephone rates generally are lower than many years ago.

This condition is important to you because the quality and quantity of telephone service directly affect the progress and growth of your business.

- (1)—The amount of money paid out to provide telephone service is increasing faster than the amount taken in.
- (2)—Telephone earnings are the lowest in history.
- (3)—Reasonable telephone earnings are essential to good telephone service.

SOIL-CEMENT

For light-traffic roads and streets,
secondary and auxiliary airport
surfaces, large auto parking areas

Wherever light-traffic pavements must be built at lowest first cost, it pays to use Soil-Cement.

SERVICE-PROVED. Soil-cement has thoroughly demonstrated its durability and strength under all weather conditions. Hundreds of miles of roads and millions of square yards of airport runways of soil-cement are now in use.

SOIL-CEMENT IS a scientific mixture of portland cement and the soil on the site. Moistened and compacted, it hardens into a strong, durable material highly resistant to sun, rain and frost. First cost is low because soil-cement is about 90% soil. Large areas can be put down rapidly with simple equipment and ordinary labor. Precise but simple methods of laboratory control assure durability.

MONEY SAVING. Soil-cement does for light-traffic uses what portland cement concrete does for heavier duty—it provides long serviceability at low annual cost. Urge your officials to use soil-cement where light-traffic pavements are needed.

FOREST SERVICE SEEKS TO AID TIMBER OWNER

"One of the primary objectives of the Mississippi Forest Service is to assist the private timberland owner to so manage his woodlands that he will receive a better income from the sale of the products of his woodlands and at the same time, increase the potential value of the remaining stand," said Area Forest Ranger Russell Lott of Pearlridge while discussing the work of the State Forest Service recently.

"The State Forest Service program, continued Ranger Lott, "is built largely around fire prevention and timber management. One of the best methods for bringing the value of fire prevention to the attention of the woodland owner is to enable him to obtain better prices and better products from his woodlands as a result of good forest management."

"It is not possible," said Ranger Lott "to go into each timberland owner's tract of timber and show him just exactly what to do in order to practice good forest management. There are too many woodland owners, and the field personnel of the Public Forest Service is too small to accomplish this. Consequently, different methods are employed to enable the farm woodland owner to recognize the best ways in which to handle his woodlands. One of these methods is through visual education in the schools and in the community meetings held throughout the county. The State Forest Service has provided each district (there are 5 forest districts) in the state with the latest type of 16 mm sound movie projectors and each Area Forest Ranger has been trained in the operation of these machines. Motion pictures that illustrate approved harvesting methods for the forest products grown on the farm woodlands are shown and thus the children in the schools learn what is the wisest course to pursue in order to leave the stand of timber in condition to produce a better crop at another time."

Ranger Lott, who has supervision over Mississippi Forest Service activities in the counties of Hancock and Harrison, maintains headquarters at Pearlridge and works directly under supervision of Dist. Forester John Brown or M. B. Parsons whose district headquarters are located at Wiggins, Miss.

Ranger Lott has conducted a number of training schools for members of volunteer crews who have agreed to fight forest fires in their respective communities. These crews are using equipment provided by the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

The minimum equipment of each one of these crews is two back pack pumps, two fire flaps, and three fire risks. The Mississippi Forestry Commission has purchased and distributed many thousands of dollars worth of this equipment for use in counties which are not under intensive forest fire protection. Counties under the intensive forest fire protection system have towers, radio, or telephone facilities and paid fire crews.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time-tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with this understanding: you must like the way it quickly lays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
